CENTRE FOR EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP

The Strategic e-Medical Affairs Course

Learn to design a digital innovation strategy for Medical Affairs – Grasp the full power and trends of the whole spectrum of digital tactics that affect physicians and patients – Learn how to optimise the mix of tactics and to measure their business impact.

Fonny Schenck & Ben Harbour

- European thought leaders on digital and customer-centric innovation in the new go-to-market model of life sciences.
- Fonny Schenck is CEO of Across Health and was formerly Executive Director with J&J in the area of cross-channel CRM and digital marketing.
- Ben Harbour is Across Health's MD for the UK and has experience spanning the clinical, medical and commercial phases of product development across a wide range of therapeutic indications.
- The duo are highly respected for their comprehensive functional knowledge, ranging from SFE to Marketing Excellence and e-Medical.

By Attending This Course, You Will

- 1) Not miss the opportunities offered by the Internet for digital/cross-channel customer-centric communication in Medical Affairs.
- 2) Be able to design a digital strategy for key disciplines in Medical Affairs: medical education, medical information, KOL management, dissemination of data and clinical trial recruitment.
- 3) Know how to integrate digital initiatives in a balanced Medical Mix while respecting legal and regulatory guidelines.
- 4) Be able to assess the clinical impact of e-medical programmes and how to create KPIs and dashboards to assess the success of your cross-channel activities.
- 5) Learn from well-metricised examples of successful e-medical tactics for physicians, consumers/caregivers and other new stakeholders.
- 6) Be prepared for emerging digital trends that will impact Medical Affairs.

Why You Should Attend

On one hand, there is a strong need from pharma customers (physicians, but also patients, nurses, (hospital) pharmacists etc.) to receive the latest medical information “anytime, anywhere” – on websites, but also on tablet devices and smartphones. On the other hand, pharma is experiencing cost pressures in the promotional space. As a result, more efforts are being put into blended or pure online offerings, which not only result in budget efficiencies, but will also be preferred by time-pressured customers.

The Content: This course not only provides you with an explanation about concepts and methods but also, and more importantly, it discusses the integration of digital in the overall business strategy and medical plans (with practical examples) as well as the perspective of customers and stakeholders, including several best-practice cases.

The Experts: Our expert-trainers, Fonny Schenck and Ben Harbour, have a wide international experience in integrating digital into pharma companies’ business communication processes. In addition, they have also built up a very strong reputation within the international digital pharma community as high-impact consultants and trainers.

The Strategic e-Medical Affairs Course is the only available public training course delivered by Fonny and Ben on the topic of digital strategy for medical affairs.

Who Should Attend

This workshop is designed for innovative medical leaders who want to optimise their communication mix and enhance customer-centricity through the selective adoption of digital.

As this course is delivered by Fonny Schenck & Ben Harbour of Across Health - a leading pharma consultancy company, executives from other professional service agencies should request approval prior to registering for this course. Please contact Annelies Swaan, Head of Business Operations, for more information (annelies.swaan@celforpharma.com, tel +32 (0)2 709 01 42).
